TRADE MOVING SURELY ONWARD

In Reviewing Business World for Week Just Past Don Foresees, Widespread Activity

All restraining influences have not been eliminated, but developments that count for most in the business world continue mainly on the constructive side. International political relations, though less threatening, still have a disquieting effect, the foreign exchange problems are as yet unsolved and obfuscious, the ranks of labor remains a straying in some directions. With abundant harvests, however, a full measure of prosperity is possible, and never before was the promise of the grain crops more brilliant than at the present time. General recognition of this fact finds expression in the continual improvement in sentiment and in the increasing demands upon producing and distributing interests as well.

While trade in some quarters, due chiefly to temporary causes, hesitates, the movement as a whole is steadily onward and should gain momentum with the advancing season. The first sign of the situation period has brought many thousands of consumers back to the non-financing coffee houses, where preparations for fall and winter are on a broadening scale in anticipation of expanding requirements. In certain lines of business, or sections of the country, the effects of previous depression are still mainly visible, but even to the south, which has suffered most, the trend of affairs is now more definitely in the right direction. As a rule, collections everywhere are better and commercial insolvencies have been materially diminished both in number and amount of indebtedness.

Break News to Mother, Says Human Cinder

"I'm going to be burned at the stake, oh, so slow."

So said Frank Bird, a low, well-modulated tenor, in the cushion in the Katy lunch room this morning, as he pulled out his pocketbook and his watch.

"When I am all burned up, with nothing but a cedar left, send these to my mother and sister in Nashville, for I will soon be tied to the blinding stakes and there will be nobody to care for my poor folks," Bird stated of the cushion with his luminous eyes aglow, and she was too startled to realize Bird disappeared to find the place where he was to be burned, and the police were notified. They believe that the man is insane, and are looking for him.

There was $36 in the pocketbook, and the watch is an expensive one.

FLOWER MEN MEET

Start Publicity Campaign at Monday Night Session—To Instruct Public Along Civic Beauty Lines

Plans for the complete organization of the florists of Oklahoma were made at the quarterly meeting of the Oklahoma State Florist Association at the Lee Hotel Monday night.

The organization is a comparatively new one, but the local members believe that by the first of the year more than a hundred of the leading florists of the state will become affiliated with the national advisory board of the organization.

A committee was appointed to devise the means of further acquainting the public with the different seasons and best adapted to temperate zone plants and to make more general information concerning plants.

An active interest in the campaign is being taken by the local civic beauties. George Stiles is president of the association, and C. A. Hatten, secy.

retary.

Mr. Crane feels it is a distinct honor to be named a member of the national council of the organization, along with other prominent members are William H. Taft, Elmer Root, Jacob W. Dickenson, Henry L. Stimson, Little E. Wright, George von L. Meyer, Eugene N. Newberry and Charles J. Hampshire. These will act on the advisory board.

The purpose of this organization is not to become an entity, but to create a nation at defense, as a second reserve. The first in the line is the United States army, the second is the militia, and the American Legion is the third.

Former Physician Theodore Roosevelt is the head of the organization, and other prominent members are William H. Taft, Elmer Root, Jacob W. Dickenson, Henry L. Stimson, Little E. Wright, George von L. Meyer, Eugene N. Newberry and Charles J. Hampshire. These will act on the advisory board.

Under the auspices of the organization no military or naval service will be required of its members unless the United States becomes involved in war, while at six times prior to a call to duty it will be the member's privilege to resign.

One of the first voluntary joiners was Dr. John Wilson Hill, organizer of the peace movement.

Mr. Crane hopes to secure a thousand members in the state of Oklahoma within the next six months.

CRANE NAMED STATE LEADER

Oklahoma City Man Named State Counselor in American League for National Defense

DOUGLAS B. CRANE, an Oklahoma City attorney, has just been elected from the national headquarters of the American Legion, notification of his appointment as a member of the national advisory board of the organization for the state of Oklahoma. There will be 200 of these counselors in the country.

IN NEW QUARTERS

The offices of the city board of education, the superintendent and clerical force of the schools are being moved to the Irving school, Third and Walnut Monday afternoon. The rooms formerly used by them are to be converted into class rooms for the high school, collecting the concession attendant to the high enrollment this year. Up to math Monday twelve hundred students had enrolled. Principal Wellenauer announced Monday that special preference would close Wednesday night and that all who desired to choose their teachers and classes must get down before that time.

NOMINATING FOR GOVERNOR

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14.—A primary election is being held in Maryland today to nominate Democratic and Republican candidates for offices to be filled at the general election, November 2. The more important state offices are governor, comptroller, attorney general, one-half state senate, and all members of the house of delegates. The ballots are long and the returns probably will be late.

THE OKLAHOMA TIMES

NO RELIEF FROM HEAT FOR WHILE

East Must Suffer for 36 Hours Longer—While West Shivers—Oklahoma Neutral

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—No relief from the excessive heat which has gripped the east and south since the middle of last week is promised by the weather bureau during the next 36 hours.

Unseasonably cool weather prevails in the west and temperatures at or below the freezing point are reported from many points in the Rocky mountains and plateau regions.

Following the rain of 10 inches early Tuesday morning, the temperature dropped several degrees, and the local forecast is for continued cooler weather. The indications are that there will be no more rain for several days. The temperature of the past week is more typical of the normal Oklahoma summer than at any time during the warm weather months. The precipitation to date is now 31.11 inches, the normal being slightly over 24.

ESTIMATE IS REVISED

Latest Calculations of State Auditor E. B. Howard Show Valuation Increase of $50,000,000 This Year

Public service corporations assessed by the state board of equalization show to date according to a revised estimate handed out this morning by State Auditor E. B. Howard, a total valuation of

This does not include the Prairie Pipe Line Co., the Texas Co., the Gulf Pipe Line company and the American Telegraph and Telephone Co. These companies will bring the total valuation of the public service corporations up to approximately $253,000,000. The total valuation of counties as estimated by the state board amounts to $932,760,229, making total valuation of both the counties and public service corporations of approximately $318,530,000. This is $10,000,000 over the 1914 assessment.

However, there was exempted by the 1915 legislation from all ad valorem taxation, motorcycles, automobiles, traction engines, machinery used in and around operating oil and gas wells, grain and cotton in its raw state. The amount of this assessment of that class of property for the year 1914, was $21,000,000. Storage oil held by the pipe lines last year was assessed at 82 cents per barrel, said Mr. Howard. "While this year it was assessed at 40 cents per barrel, the total stored amounts to about $15,000,000 or $16,000,000, which would bring the increase of the total assessment of the state up to about $50,000,000."

I hope that we will get the cooperation of eminent engineers in America," said Daniels.

Mr. Daniels outlined some of the first questions to come before the board. He pointed out that the main trouble encountered in the operation of aircraft and submarines was in their motors. The Germans, he said, had evolved a new method of preventing corrosion of guns, which, if
